

World History Honors

Open House

Course Description

- This class will take a unique look at world history starting with the Paleolithic Era and working our way up to the late-20th century.
- During the course of the semester, students will learn about past events and people, and will analyze the cause and effects of historical events.
- This class will take a close look at both the accomplishments of world civilizations, as well as their blunders.
- The goal of this class is for students to analyze historical events and formulate their own opinions of complex and controversial topics.
- Students will leave this class with a greater understanding of past and current world history, as well as a sharpened ability to think critically and formulate informed opinions.
